

Wireless Control Systems

Significant energy savings

- Complete control and regulation of your heating and lighting means energy is only consumed when needed - reducing your energy bills and your carbon footprint.

Complete control

- Manual or automatic control
- Monitor window or door opening
- Allows portable and remote control up to a distance of 200m
- Control and adjustment of lights, on/off or create lighting scenes
- Control shutters, blinds, gates, latches and garage doors
- Simulate occupancy when you are away from home.

Simple & flexible installation

- Transmitters are powered by battery and so do not require any wiring or additional power supply
- No additional cables or wall cutting needed. Receivers can be installed behind light fittings or into suitable installation boxes
- Universal input transmitter converts up to 4 push-button switches - enabling existing devices to be connected to the system
- Operates on 916MHz frequency band which provides robust communications
- Flexible positioning makes RF Control ideal for installation within existing or newly constructed buildings. With RF Control, you can move switches freely and re-locate when required. Switches can be mounted on glass, wood or walls etc.
